M'ANENY WON'T RUN FOR MAYOR; TURNS DOWN SCHIFF

MAYOR'S FUNERAL ORDERED TO TAKE PLACE IN TRINITY CHURCH MONDAY, SEPT. 22.

To Lie in State in City Hall and Be Given Civic Burial, with Mrs. Gaynor's Consent—Board of Estimate's Eulogy.

BULLETIN.—The following cablegram from Rufus W. Gaynor, son of the Mayor, who was with him on the Baltic was received late this afternoon by Robert Adamson, who was Mayor Gaynor's secretary:

"Ball with casket on Lusitania from Liverpool, Saturday, the thirteenth. Casket to rest in Town Hall, Liverpool, to-night, with guard of honor through courtesy of Lord Mayor. Will meet United States Consul on arrival. Everything O. K. Very mother. (Signed) RUFUS W. GAYNOR."

The message, written aboard the Baltic, was sent to Liverpool by wireless and there cabled.

Mayor Gaynor is to be buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, on the afternoon of Monday, Sept. 22, after funeral services in Trinity Church. During Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night preceding the funeral, the body of the Mayor is to lie in state at the City Hall.

When the Lusitania of the Cunard line arrives next Friday it will be met down the Bay by committees of heads of departments and of the Board of Estimate. The arrangements contemplate the removal of the casket containing the Mayor's body from the Cunard line pier to the Gaynor home at No. 20 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn. On Saturday night the body will be taken from the Brooklyn home to the City Hall. Gen. Thomas Barry, Commandant of the Department of the East, has offered an escort of soldiers from Governor's Island for the body of the Mayor from the time of its arrival in the city until the burial. There will also be an escort of uniformed policemen and firemen and the bearers of the casket will be selected from the Police and Fire Departments, four men from each.

Bishop Greer of the Episcopal Diocese of New York probably will conduct the funeral services, although he is out of the city and has not said he will be present. The plans contemplate that the Rev. L. E. Holden, pastor of the Episcopal Church at St. James, L. I.; Dr. Frank Page, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, both of which have been attended by the Gaynor family, shall assist Bishop Greer.

SON CALLS TO REMOVE PERSONAL EFFECTS.

Norman Gaynor, one of the two sons of the late Mayor, called at the City Hall this afternoon to see Mayor Kline and Secretary Adamson. The young man said that he wanted to make arrangements to take away the personal effects of his father in the Mayor's office, including his books and private papers.

Mayor Kline was at lunch at the time with Jeremiah Mahoney, Commissioner of Accounts, and Thomas W. Churchill, President of the Board of Education. Secretary Adamson has all the Mayor's property in his possession, including a mass of material which Mayor Gaynor intended to use in his campaign for re-election. Much of this material consists of accusations against Tammany Hall and Tammany politicians. Whether it can be used in a campaign by the men who were managing the Mayor's cause now that he is dead is a question.

Young Mr. Gaynor did not take away any of his father's effects, but it is probable that Secretary Adamson will send them all to the Gaynor home in Brooklyn within a short time.

At the meeting of city officials this afternoon a plan was broached to remove the body of the Mayor from the Lusitania at Quarantine, place it aboard the Correction Department steamer Correction and convey it to the Battery, from which point it might be carried on an open hearse to the City Hall. Deputy Commissioner of Charities Wright suggested the use of the boat Correction, which is a large craft, with a capacity for 500 passengers. The boat was christened two years ago by the then Ethel Gaynor, now Mrs. Harry Vinnet, the Mayor's daughter.

Brooklyn Republican politicians found their way across the bridge in droves to-day and camped in the City Hall. They are after patronage and figure that Mayor Kline should give it to them. The new Mayor, literally shot into his job, has not found his bearings as yet, but he has already learned that he is in for a hard session with the politicians and leaders of his party. He has practically notified his pursuers that they will serve their purposes better by waiting until after the funeral of Mayor Gaynor, as he will confine himself strictly to the routine duties of the office pending that event.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE'S TRIBUTE.

A great public memorial meeting to express the grief of the city over the death of Mayor Gaynor was decided upon at a special meeting of the

JEROME TELLS HOW PLOT TO KIDNAP THAW WAS BALKED

Canadians Planned Rescue, He Says to Evening World by Long Distance Phone.

(By Long Distance Telephone to The Evening World.)

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 12.—Special Deputy Attorney-General Jerome, in an interview for The Evening World by long distance telephone to-day, said that all that prevented the success of the plot to kidnap Harry Thaw yesterday and rush him across the New Hampshire border into Maine, where his sympathizers planned to keep him in hiding until they could perfect plans to get him out of the country, probably on a yacht or steamship, was the friendliness to the New York State authorities of the majority of the residents of Colebrook, N. H., where Thaw is held. "Is there any truth in the story published here this morning that Thaw sympathizers tried to rescue him yesterday?" was the first question put to Mr. Jerome.

"Well, there's considerable foundation for it," he replied with a laugh. "If we hadn't found them out they'd have got away with it, all right."

"Who was at the bottom of it?"

SAYS COATCOOK SYMPATHIZERS WERE IN PLOT.
"Well, I think it was a little coterie of Thaw's friends from Coaticook. A good many of them have followed him here and they are just as ardently sympathetic as they were when they were shouting Thaw's praises in their own homes."

"How did you discover the plot?"

"Well, we're rather popular up here—somewhat different from Coaticook. The people are with the law and the authorities and the plan had not been got under way before word of it was brought to us. Of course, that ended its chances for success. You'd have to excuse me now, I'm on my way to court. Thaw's hearing is just about to come up."

"What can be done with him now?"

"Judge Carr can admit him to bail or remand him, pending the arrival of requisition papers from New York. I don't think anything will be done to-day. I expect another adjournment. That's all. I've got to hurry. Good-by."

The attempt to rescue Thaw created much excitement in Colebrook. The town filled with strangers soon after Thaw's arrival, and among them were nearly 300 husky lumberjacks from about Northern Maine, Vt., and the country just across the Canadian border. In the crowd also were several men whom New York newspaper men recognized as gangsters from that city.

They gathered around the office of Thaw's counsel in Colebrook and presently two high powered automobiles appeared. A local lawyer heard a rumor of the prospective rescue and carried it to Mr. Jerome and to Capt. John Langan, a private detective in Mr. Jerome's employ. They notified Sheriff Drew and Chief of Police Kelly at once, and the latter ordered the big cars out of town. The chauffeurs declared that they had no hand in any plot and were drawn to Thaw's neighborhood merely through curiosity. They were forced to leave town, however.

THAW GETS DELAY, ASKS WHY NEW YORK BREAKS ITS OWN LAW

(Special From a Staff Correspondent.)
COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 12.—Harry K. Thaw will not appear before a Judge until to-morrow. By mutual consent of his counsel and Special Deputy Attorney-General Jerome of New York State, his hearing before Justice of the Peace Carr was set over to-day for 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Thaw is charged with being a fugitive from New York, where he is wanted during a case of alleged kidnaping.

"BIG TIM" LOSER, BUT BANKRUPTCY STORY IS DENIED

Frank Farrell Says Statement Made in Court Suit Is Unwarranted.

(By Long Distance Telephone to The Evening World.)

Timothy D. Sullivan, who has been missing from his home since Aug. 31, is on the verge of bankruptcy, according to a statement made to-day before Supreme Court Justice Donnelly in Chambers by Oliver B. Goldsmith, an attorney representing the committee which has charge of the incompetent leader's estate. But among "Big Tim's" many friends Frank Farrell, at least, does not believe the report.

Mr. Farrell was at the Polo Grounds this afternoon and he swept his hand in a wide gesture as he exclaimed:

"The amount of money 'Big Tim' has been doing out of would build this grandstand three times over. He never refused a friend and a lot of persons took advantage of this to lead him into schemes which never worked out to his benefit. But he never complained. He wasn't that kind."

NOT NEAR BANKRUPTCY, SAYS FRANK FARRELL.

"But while it's true that he lost a fortune, or rather several fortunes, I don't believe that he is anywhere near bankruptcy now. In fact, I am certain that his personal financial condition was never better."

"I am sure these proceedings do not affect his personal affairs. I believe they are directed toward the dissolution of the partnership of Sullivan and Krause. Among other places, as you know, they owned the Dewey Theatre property and were interested in many theatrical ventures. I think this trouble is an outgrowth of a judgment obtained against the firm some time ago by a burlesque company, and it wouldn't trouble 'Big Tim' to pay for it out of his own pocket if the affairs of the firm were in too bad shape to do so."

"Sullivan is on East street. You can be sure of that. His business has never been so well looked after as since the appointment of the committee and his personal affairs were never better."

Mr. Farrell said he was not one of those who thought anything had happened to Sullivan.

"He was not the kind to kill himself," said Farrell. "He's been in one of a hundred places, where true friends would give him shelter. He wanted freedom. He was tired of being watched and guarded and when he read of Harry Thaw's escape from Matteawan he said: 'I'll do a Thaw myself, pretty soon, and that's what he's doing.'"

Lawyer Goldsmith, on the contrary, said that hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of claims had been filed against "Big Tim's" estate. The claims began to amass soon after Sullivan was adjudged incompetent and placed in the custody of relatives last January.

If the claims were allowed and paid, the attorney said, the value of "Big Tim's" estate, estimated in the millions, would be doubtful. Mr. Goldsmith appeared to oppose a motion made by John B. White of counsel for the Union Bank of Brooklyn to compel the committee to pay a note for $5,000 alleged to have been executed by Sullivan in favor of Thomas L. Reynolds and transferred by Reynolds to the bank.

"BIG TIM'S" GUARDIANS OPPOSE BANK MOVE.

The motion was denied at that time by Justice Donnelly, but yesterday he expressed a willingness to hear further argument on the matter, and he called the attorneys into his chambers to-day.

Explaining his reason for previously denying the motion, Justice Donnelly said that he believed the bank should do as other creditors of the former Congressman have done—ask permission of the Court to bring suit on its note.

SCHIFF TURNED DOWN; M'ANENY REFUSES TO RUN FOR MAYORALTY

Borough President Declines to Be Dragooned Into Fight by Banker, Who Engineers His Nomination by Gaynor League.

REPUBLICANS WILL NOW UNITE UPON MITCHEL

They Propose to Vote for Him at the Primaries, While Schiff Persists in Supporting McAneny.

George McAneny, Fusion candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, promptly declined a nomination for Mayor tendered him to-day by the executive committee of the Gaynor Independent League to fill the vacancy on the third ticket caused by the death of Mayor Gaynor.

"I have been informed," said Mr. McAneny, "of the action taken by the Gaynor nominating bodies. I profoundly and sincerely appreciate the honor these gentlemen do me, but I am bound to state that I could not and would not under any circumstances take a nomination for the Mayoralty in opposition to Mr. Mitchell."

Fire Commissioner Johnson, manager of the Gaynor movement, stood by in the City Hall and heard Mr. McAneny's declination. Calling the reporters about him, he said:

"Mr. McAneny cannot decline to run with one position as filed and he is formally put in nomination. These positions will be filed and his name will be on them. Mr. McAneny says he will not run against Mr. Mitchell. Maybe he will not have to run against Mr. Mitchell."

GAYNOR LEADERS WANT TO FORCE MITCHELL OFF TICKET.
The plan of the Gaynor leaders is to bring about a situation that would drive Mr. Mitchell off the Fusion ticket and permit the substitution of Mr. McAneny. The leading advocate of this plan is Jacob H. Schiff, one of the foremost bankers in Wall street and member of the Gaynor executive committee. In the meeting of that committee to-day Mr. Schiff proposed the name of Mr. McAneny as a candidate for Mayor and advocated the continuation of the third ticket movement.

There was discussion of a proposal to call upon President Wilson to use influence to cause Mr. Mitchell to retire from the local political and devote himself exclusively to his Custom House duties. Henry De Forest Baldwin, intimate friend and spokesman for Mr. Mitchell, said vigorously the Collector would not be driven off the ticket and that he was there to stay.

Republican managers will now put the name of John Purroy Mitchell through their primaries as nominee of the party for Mayor. Former Senator Martin Saxe, who has active charge of the Mitchell campaign on behalf of the Republican organization, said to-day:

"The Gaynor movement has absolutely collapsed. Mr. McAneny's honorable stand is very helpful to the Fusion cause. Nothing that the Gaynor League can do will cause the withdrawal of Mr. Mitchell. He is not only the Fusion choice, but at next Tuesday's primaries he will be formally elected as the Republican party's candidate for Mayor.

"It is evident that the Gaynor managers are looking around like a drowning man, clutching at straws for a candidate to head their ticket. In such a position they cannot possibly make headway."

This sudden collapse, beginning with Mayor Gaynor's death and concluding with to-day's fiasco over Mr. McAneny, necessarily causes changes in the Republican and Fusion plans of campaign. The anti-Gaynor literature and material will now go into the waste basket. The campaign is against Tammany alone."

KOENIG AND HAPGOOD CONFER WITH M'ANENY.
Chairman E. S. Koening of the Republican County Committee and Norman Hapgood had a hurried conference with Mr. McAneny this afternoon. They congratulated him on his stand against the Gaynor League offer and praised his attitude. Mr. Hapgood said it was honorable and magnificent and that it would benefit greatly the Fusion cause.

William Lustgarten, Chairman of the Committee of One Thousand and identified with the Gaynor movement, declared to-day in favor of Mitchell. Mr. Lustgarten said he believed the best way to accomplish the late Mayor's purpose in the coming campaign is to support the entire Fusion ticket. Directly after the Lustgarten statement became public Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson declared that "Lustgarten is merely a clerk employed in Gaynor headquarters and has no authority." The attitude of these two boomers of the Gaynor movement indicates a split in the Gaynor forces.

Lustgarten claims that the Municipal Party, of which he is also Chairman, has secured 10,000 petitions for the independent nomination of Mayor Gaynor.

Even though Mr. McAneny declined the Gaynor League's offer of a nomination, Jacob H. Schiff proclaimed the necessity for his candidacy and for a continuance of the independent movement.

In a formal statement Mr. Schiff said: "In my opinion the action of the League was the only right and logical
